PERSONAL

I grew up in Greenland and have since lived in Denmark, Spain, Norway, USA, Germany, and the U.K.

Mountains, the sea and outdoor life were part of my upbringing and are key to my wellbeing today as well. I hike, ski and trailrun as much as possible, be it in the Norwegian mountains, on longer adventures or just in the backyard forest. There is always something to see, feel and smell out there.

Today I live with my partner in a half-timbered house in Kgs. Lyngby north of Copenhagen. Forests, lakes and beaches are close and wonderful. We have a village house in the Spanish Sierra Nevada region, where life is slow, and the mountains are right outside our door.

My free time is spent on reading, cooking, friends, culture and outdoorsy stuff. I also practice Buddhism every day and have done so for many years (Nichiren Daishonin's Buddhism in Soka Gakkai International, www.sokaglobal.org).
